

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURAL SCIENCES

Advanced Topics in Plant Protection

In Advanced Topics in Plant Protection, in-depth studies on specialized cases will be used as means to combine a diverse range of academic courses and disciplines that are required in working conditions. Students will be guided through investigating, analyzing and resolving complex plant protection cases, developing skills and expertise that will be required in advancing pest management in the future.